said, and once she was ordered to go out and look for other quarters. "One Sunday morning when the Spikers had gone to church and we were living on Ellwood avenue," she said, "I wanted to see my baby so badly that I went to their house all alone. I wanted to have him all alone, all to myself, and we spent several hours together until Perley came home and found that Alfred was not there. He came to my apartment and he raised rumpus because I had the baby. He demanded of me to give up the child at once, but I refused and kept him there until that evening. It broke my heart to part with him, but I thought probably it was best to do this without having any further trouble.

To Fight for Baby and Freedom.

"Although the court has decreed him the adopted child of Perley and his wife, I love my baby as only a mother can, and I am determined to have him. I have arranged to engage Attorney Harry B. Wolf in order to institute proceedings to have the adoption set aside. "Mr. Fox knows everything and he has declared his intentions to marry me as soon as possible. With some money we have saved we will go into the courts and fight if necessary to obtain my freedom from the bonds that tied me to Guy Spiker."

Mrs. Spiker said she wrote a note and left it for Guy on the dining room table. As close as she could remember, the note read: "Guy—I cannot live with you any longer with this treatment. With another companion whom I love and who can provide for me and treat me better I am leaving. You can take whatever legal action and desire in obtaining your freedom. I never did love you. Should you want to get in touch with me you can do so by addressing a letter to me at the general delivery. Good-bye. EMMILY."

Has Found Real Love.

"Since leaving Guy's home I have been more happy than at any time in my life, with a new love and with a really true love we will fight to a finish for each other."

Mrs. Spiker said her husband and Perley trailed her to her new home and wanted to talk about a reconciliation. Perley did the talking, and she refused to speak to Guy.

MOTHER GIVES LIFE TO ### SAVE HER 2 CHILDREN

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—In an instant yesterday Mrs. Sophie Antonic, Brooklyn, was called on to decide between life and death. She was returning from a shop near her home with her children, Karra, six, and Frances, three.

A heavy touring car, with an inexperienced driver at the wheel, bounded up on the curb on Fifth avenue.

There was just a second to spare between the children and sudden death. The mother turned, leaped back, and before the crowd sensed her purpose flung the little girls out of the course of the car.

Then before she could recover her balance the automobile hit and pinned her against an iron fence. She was crushed to death, but the children were safe.

ALLIES ORDER TURKS TO ### SURRENDER CONSPIRATORS

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 14.—Allied authorities here have invited the Turkish government to surrender the men involved in the revolutionary plot, discovery of which was announced here yesterday. These persons must be turned over to the Allies within a week or the government will be held responsible. The conspirators will be tried by an Allied court-martial. General headquarters is under guard by the British troops, while Gordon Highlanders have raided premises of various nationalist organizations. The guns of British warships anchored in the Golden Horn and the Bosphorus have been directed against Istanbul, the Asiatic section of the city. British troops are disarming the population.

SECOND TUNNEL IS OPENED AT GENEVA

GENEVA, Sept. 14.—The opening of the passage of the second Simplon tunnel, parallel to the first, was completed today. The masonry work of the vault of the tunnel is also well advanced.

It is hoped to have the second tunnel ready for use by the end of the year.

MISS RAPPE'S FAMOUS 'PAJAMA ACT' AND STUDIO PORTRAIT OF ACTRESS

Here are two unusual photographs of Virginia Rappe, who died following a wild revel in the rooms of Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle. One shows her in her famous pajama role and the other in a studio portrait.

hysterical and crying that she was dying.

Court Return Tomorrow.

Presiding Judge E. P. Shortall, of the superior court, is expected to receive the grand jury's return of the indictment Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Following the customary rule in such cases he will assign the case to one of the criminal court departments and fix the amount of bail that will be acceptable.

The district attorney is then expected to ask an early arraignment on the manslaughter charge and it was considered probable today that Saturday will be the date fixed for trial.

It became known today that an eloquent plea by District Attorney Brady caused the grand jury to reconsider its intention of adjourning last night without action.

He is reported to have concluded this statement to the members of the grand jury with the plea, "Gentlemen, I urge strongly, action tonight. Do not make a farce of this investigation."

Question in Murder Charge.

Urged for a statement today, District Attorney Brady issued the following: "The grand jury has heard the evidence in the case and brought in its findings. It is not for the district attorney's office to comment on their decision."

"We have not yet considered what disposal will be made of the murder charge. It is too serious a matter on which to give an offhand decision, as it presents many complications."

"The indictment against Arbuckle will be formally returned in Superior Judge E. P. Shortall's court tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock."

"Arbuckle cannot be bailed out on the manslaughter charge until the indictment is returned."

"In any event he cannot be released until the murder charge has been disposed of."

"When the jury reconvened for the second time last night after being dismissed and postponing action at first until next Monday, it is my opinion they were not clear on the points of the law and asked instructions on definitions of the words 'murder' and 'manslaughter.'"

"The jury's indictment indicates that they believed Arbuckle killed Miss Rappe. They decided that he should be prosecuted for manslaughter instead of murder."

"Prosecute Fatty to the Limit," Says "Mother" of Actress-Victim

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—"He should be prosecuted to the limit of the law for this monstrous act against a good and beautiful girl."

This was the declaration of Mrs. Joseph Harbeck, who has been "mother" for thirteen years to Virginia Rappe, victim of the San Francisco tragedy. Mrs. Harbeck's reference was to Arbuckle.

"No one who knew Virginia as I knew her could picture her as receiving the attentions of this man. Any low or common act would have been impossible to her."

When asked if she could account for Miss Rappe's presence in the Hotel room with Arbuckle as charged, Mrs. Harbeck said:

"It must have been force. She always shunned any situation that was compromising."

It was learned today that papers of attachment for a bill of $4,500 worth of furniture have been served on representatives of Arbuckle by deputies from the sheriff's office, on behalf of a Los Angeles furniture concern.

William M. Gerland, expunged the name of Arbuckle from the roster of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

In connection with his action, Mr. Gerland said:

"All the details of the Arbuckle incident are too disgusting to permit any possible sympathy for the offender."

"None of us are without sympathy, and it is not becoming for anyone to throw stones at a man in great trouble."

Arbuckle's Fat And Rum Blamed By Psycho-Analyst

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER.

"If Roscoe Arbuckle committed the crime with which he is charged, he did it because he is fat!"

"The hundred top many pounds rolling over the film comedian's body is so much moral weakness and potential crime."

"If he is found guilty the judge should sentence him not to prison, but to a gymnasium to lose fat."

Andre Tridon, famous psychoanalyst, of Paris, thus diagnosed yesterday the reason beneath the trouble of "Fatty" Arbuckle. He added:

"If Arbuckle is found guilty, his fat is an attenuating circumstance."

"Furthermore, he is specially predestined to be the victim of alcohol, because he is too fat."

"Accordingly, I believe Arbuckle should be tried by a jury of twelve psychologists and psychoanalysts and that if he is found guilty he should be sentenced to a health farm or gymnasium to work off a hundred or more pounds."

and that is not my intention. My position is that events as far as they have gone show that Mr. Arbuckle is not a proper person to be a member of a club."

Frederick Bars Fatty.

FREDERICK, Md., Sept. 14.—The moving picture theaters of Frederick have cancelled films starring "Fatty" Arbuckle.

WORLD BANKERS TO AID MEXICO WITH BIG LOAN

Return of Prosperity in Southern Republic Forecast by Lamont's Action.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A new loan to Mexico and the conditions under which it would be floated was reported today to be the object of the announced, forthcoming visit of Thomas W. Lamont, of Morgan & Co., to Mexico City. Before launching the new loan, the status of previous obligations entered into by former Mexican governments will be gone into, Mr. Lamont stated. He will represent the financiers of all nations who have extensive investments in Mexico, including the British, French, Dutch, Swiss and Belgian.

The fact that an international committee of bankers has commissioned Mr. Lamont to go to Mexico to straighten out her foreign financial obligations was interpreted in Wall Street as indicating that the Mexican situation shortly will be cleared up and an era of industrial prosperity launched there.

LEAD QUIET LIFE, VICTIM'S LAST ADVICE TO GIRLS

In Interview Miss Rappe Played "Lounge Lizard," "Jazz Baby," and Late Hours.

By Universal Service.
CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—"Lead the quiet life." That was the last advice Virginia Rappe gave to Chicago girls in a newspaper interview.

The interview follows:
By VIRGINIA RAPPE.

To be real frank, this entire discussion, which amounts to nothing more than whether or not a girl's enjoyment shall be curtailed, was brought about through the mistake of the girls. A privilege was abused. And now amends are to be made.

There is an old saying—Mr. Lehman made use of it in his comedy "A Twelfth Night"—"You can give a cow enough rope." It's the same with girls. Give them enough rope and they won't know when to stop dancing, go home, or anything else.

The foregoing is a radical view, some of the aggrieved girls may say. And yet there are just as many girls who will agree that they didn't appreciate their liberty, and consequently overstepped the bounds.

Mothers to Stop It.

There is one way of meeting the problem on a fair basis, and that is through arbitration. And the girls must take the first step toward the half-way line.

Hardly a city in this land hasn't a young set that consistently comes out home at all hours of the morning. The mothers know this. For a while, especially during the war, when the men in khaki had to be entertained, they tolerated it. Now they're determined to stop it.

There isn't a girl of fair dancing ability who hasn't been forced to be civil to the insipid lounge-lizard class that persists in haunting dance halls and country clubs. Personally, I don't know why the lounge-lizard exists. Even the cootie, the fly, and the ant have a mission in life—but the lounge-lizard—I can't explain it.

"Jazz Baby's" Origin.

The mothers appreciate this. They want to break the association and break it right now! I don't blame them. Where did the "jazz baby" idea originate? All night dances, midnight dances, all-night dances. Any sane girl knows "jazz baby" ideas are all wrong.

While we were making "A Twelfth Night" and I was in the farmyard scene, a party of youths came to visit Mr. Lehman's studio.

One of the boys whispered to me that a young girl onlooker was a typical "jazz baby." I told him I'd rather be the girl in gingham and peddle shoes. And I meant it. The mothers know this and want to keep their daughters out of the "jazz baby" element. Who can blame them?

Mother's Wish First.

I think a girl's dates should bring as much pleasure to the mother as to the girl herself. Any time a girl decides to have an evening's entertainment against the wishes of a mother or leaves that mother waiting up for her return, the scheme of things is all wrong, and I haven't much use for that girl.

The mother over the problem. It isn't hard to see that concessions must be made. After all, a mother's wish is about the best thing for everybody concerned.

And perhaps it wouldn't hurt any of us to be a little more Quakerified!

FARMER SLAYS TENANT HE ORDER TO MOVE

KELLER, Va., Sept. 14.—Edward Phillips, fifty years old, a well-known farmer of near Wachapreague, was shot and killed yesterday by John Adams, also residing near Wachapreague. One bullet took effect in the head and another in the stomach. Adams was shot in the arm and was removed to Salisbury Hospital.

Adams was owner of the farm occupied by Phillips and is said to have given him notice to move. Phillips went to the home of Adams last night and a quarrel started which resulted in the killing. Adams served as a lieutenant in the navy during the late war. Phillips is survived by a widow and two children. The men had been friendly neighbors until a short time ago.

STUDENT WOULD SELL HIMSELF FOR YEAR

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Syd Carlsen, student at the University of Illinois, yesterday offered to sell himself for one year for $1,200 to any one who advances the money to complete his college course this year.

He said he would sell his services for any purposes and would try to do anything that was offered.
